DELTA joins Amazon Web Services Public Sector Partner Program

Alexandria, VA 11/29/2016: DELTA Resources, Inc. (DELTA) is pleased to announce their selection to participate in Amazon Web Services (AWS) Public Sector Partner Program. The AWS Public Sector Partner Program recognizes companies with a strong overall AWS practice and demonstrates their experience and readiness to support government, education, and/or non-profit customer missions. DELTA's membership in the program builds on their existing relationship with AWS, formed to support the United States Army and the Office of the Secretary of Defense as part of the Department of Defense (DoD) Cloud Pilot Program.

DELTA CEO Maria Proestou is thrilled to be a part of this expanded relationship allowing DELTA to pair their outstanding cybersecurity expertise, with the advantages provided by AWS, to help their DoD customers meet their security, performance, and mission requirements, while also achieving significant cost savings. DELTA's use of AWS services allowed them to rapidly migrate and consolidate two DoD Business Enterprise Systems onto the highly secure AWS GovCloud (US), becoming operational at Defense Information Systems Agency (DISA) Cloud Computing Security Requirements Guide (SRG) Impact Level 4 in 2014. This project delivered valuable lessons learned detailed in the DISA publication Best Practices Guide for DoD Cloud Mission Owners while delivering cost-savings and improved performance and cybersecurity to our customers. DELTA, in collaboration with AWS, provides ongoing support to the development of cloud and cybersecurity strategies and technical approaches for the Army and DoD and has been selected to participate in the DISA Secure Cloud Computing Architecture Pilot on AWS GovCloud (US).
